Competition Objective:

To strengthen the industry's human resources and elevate the prestige of the road construction profession.

The National Operators' Competition places a strong focus on attracting young professionals into the sector. Special emphasis is placed on the Youth Track, which aims to unlock the potential of the next generation of operators.

In 2024, the Competition acquired international status, received a Best BRICS Solutions Award, and was recognized among the best practices in workforce development and skills advancement.

Operator teams from leading road construction companies – using equipment from both domestic and international manufacturers – will compete for the title of the best in the profession.

In 2025, the competition will welcome participants from top road construction companies in the Russian Federation, Republic of Belarus, People's Republic of China, Republic of Kazakhstan, Republic of Türkiye, and other countries

Welcome Address

Dear colleagues,

On behalf of the Federal Road Agency, I am pleased to welcome the participants, organizers, and guests of the Third National Competition of Road Construction Equipment Operators.

Skilled labor is undoubtedly the foundation for delivering large-scale infrastructure projects, including key initiatives implemented by order of the President of Russia.

This year, the road transport industry faces new challenges. The country's leadership has defined new goals and objectives, which we will achieve as one united team.

In 2025, the national project "Infrastructure for Life" was launched. By the end of 2030, at least 60% of regional roads must meet regulatory standards, as well as 85% of federal highways, roads in major urban agglomerations, and the national backbone road network. Large-scale work is underway to build bypasses around population centers and to develop international transport corridors such as North-South, West-East, and the Russia route. We have everything needed to fulfill these ambitious projects: experience, technology, and—most importantly—people who are dedicated to their profession.

The work of machinery operators is one of the most vital in the road construction sector. They do more than operate machines—they build infrastructure that connects cities and regions, responding to the needs of society. The National Competition offers these specialists a unique opportunity to demonstrate their skills, exchange experience with colleagues, and discover the latest industry technologies. Moreover, the competition helps foster a strong and unified team of professionals who are ready to take on the most demanding challenges.

I wish all participants confidence, fair competition, brilliant victories, and new achievements! I am confident that your talents and pursuit of professional excellence will lead us to even greater heights!

Welcome Address

Dear participants, guests, organizers, and partners of the competition!

On behalf of the state company Russian Highways (Avtodor), I welcome you to the Third National Competition of Road Construction Equipment Operators—an event that is strengthening its position year after year as the main platform for professional excellence in the road construction industry!

Last year, we witnessed a historic moment: the competition gained international status, bringing together 24 teams from Russia, Belarus, China, and Kazakhstan under one banner. Recognition by the BRICS award and its inclusion in the list of best industry practices were a well-deserved result of our collective efforts.

Today, we are already seeing a growing interest in the competition from both participants and the international professional community. The geography is expanding, the number of applications is increasing, and the program is becoming richer. This means that the prestige of working professions continues to rise, and the skill level of participants is reaching new heights.

We take particular pride in the participation of young professionals under the age of 23, who are proving to be worthy rivals to seasoned veterans. Thanks to the support of Russia's Construction Complex, the Ministry of Transport, and the Ministry of Construction, this competition is becoming a true talent factory for the entire industry.

This year, participants will once again demonstrate their skills in the most challenging disciplines. There is no doubt that our machinery operators are ready for any task! Your professionalism, perseverance, and dedication are the foundation on which the future of the road construction sector is being built.

I wish all participants a fair competition, new accomplishments, and outstanding victories! May this competition become a springboard to new professional heights for you!
